Below, you will find a chart listing the various types of information that may be disclosed through a criminal record check in your jurisdiction. The column on the left indicates the type of information that could be disclosed (e.g. mental health information, conditional discharges, outstanding warrant, etc.). The three columns on the right indicate the types of checks your jurisdiction may offer. If your jurisdiction only has one or two kinds of criminal record checks, leave the other column(s) empty.
